

WELCOME TO MONTPELLIER

BeSpectACTIVE, Meeting at CEPEL

4th-5th December 2017

MONTPELLIER

A southern city full of traditional and contemporary treasures, Montpellier is a Mediterranean crossroads, a charming and exceptional destination. A medieval city where the town centre, Place de la Comédie, Faculté de Médecine and Place Royale du Peyrou attract visitors from around the world, Montpellier is also a modern metropolis, open to contemporary architecture, science, culture and recreation.

But it also has many other assets. A protected area, made up of various landscapes between the sea 11km away, vineyards and mountains. A typical laid back Mediterranean atmosphere. Delicious food and wine bursting with sunshine. Exceptional cultural and sporting events.

MEETING VENUE

CEPEL

Salle Linz, 2nd Floor

3 Rue de l'Arc des Mourgues

34060 Montpellier

The South European Center for Political Studies (CEPEL) is the only laboratory of political Science in South Eastern France. This joint research unit (UMR 5112) of the CNRS (National Center for Scientific Research) is hosted by the University of Montpellier. Founded in 1983, its work focuses on the comparative analysis of the transformation of democratic governments. While initially focused exclusively on the geographical area of Southern Europe, the CEPEL has extended its coverage to the "larger South" and North America.

From private mansions to museums, from lovely little gardens to public squares, the old Montpellier is fascinating. Leave your car in one of the nearby car-parks (rue Foch and rue Pitot) and come and enjoy the city on foot.

Just steps away from the Peyrou Gardens and the place de la canourgue, You will find a building housing the secrets of carefully-planned hospitality.

The combination of old stones and modern comfort of its 26 cosily-arranged rooms give a very special charm to this little hotel.

Come and discover this Languedocian manor, part of our 18th century heritage. The family of Count Vivier de Châtelard lived in this manor ever since it was built.

When it became a hotel de charme (hotel boutique), it was restored with exquisite taste. In summer, the terrace is the ideal place to enjoy breakfast and the morning sun.

When you arrive, our team will greet you with a friendly smile, give you a warm welcome and make you feel right at home.

We are happy to inform you that the hotel has a free car park where you can leave your vehicle for the duration of your stay.
